Boss pedal production volumes.

by RandomP » 01 Apr 2012, 04:09

Hey everyone.

I remember seeing this somewhere - was it here?

Once came across on the internet a table with the numbers of pedals of each model Boss ever made.

Does anyone here have this?

Good thing I saved it, and put it in my photobucket:

It's too bad the FRV-1 isn't listed - it would be interesting to see if it had the same manufacturing numbers as the FBM and FDR.

On a side note, 10 million pedals at 400 grams a pedal (BD-2 weight, figured its a good baseline) is 4000 metric tons (8.8 million pounds for non-metric heathens) .

This equates to 1/3 the daily mass of trash produced by New York City, or 1.3 Saturn V rockets. I love Wolfram Alpha sometimes

Looking at the list I'm surprised to see people call the mij of the ce-2 rare even though there are 5 1/2x as many mij as mit. The mit are the true rare ones with only 40k made

And they sound the same as the MIJ

I love this list.. good job saving it, and kudos to bossarea himself for putting this together when the 10 million mark was hit!

There are several SS pedals which also had very short Blackscrew runs - PH-1, SG-1, SP-1, GE-6, which are all rarer in quantity as a BS than an SS, but are simply considered not as 'rare' or 'collectible.'

Rarity is also geographical.. there are always DSD-2s for sale here, but never ever a DSD-3, although both should be very rare pedals. It's possible some markets got saturated earlier and weren't sent the later variant.

That they do. I just always get a kick out of how people market their pedals for sale.

I would gladly wait for an update on that list,, it helps a lot!!,

I've seen a NS2 with silver label that is MIJ,
