It looks like the black boxes might be standard for all now

by Ricey » 18 Jun 2014, 03:56

I stopped into GC earlier and they just had gotten some new NS-2s in stock. They were in the new style black boxes like the OD-1x and DS-1x.

Ricey

Re: It looks like the black boxes might be standard for all

by Pepe » 18 Jun 2014, 07:12

Well, sounds like they have a new product manager or someone else with "great new ideas". I always liked the coloured boxes.

Pepe

Re: It looks like the black boxes might be standard for all

by Ricey » 18 Jun 2014, 19:15

yeah...me too!

Ricey

Re: It looks like the black boxes might be standard for all

by BearBoy » 18 Jun 2014, 22:24

I know it doesn't really matter but I completely agree with you

BearBoy

Re: It looks like the black boxes might be standard for all

by Ptak » 19 Jun 2014, 06:14

The black boxes look alright but I think they could have done with a bit more color. If you have a bit of OCD and like Boss pedals, you definitely can't be happy about this change.

Ptak

Re: It looks like the black boxes might be standard for all

by The_Doc » 19 Jun 2014, 08:08

The old style coloured boxes could become collectable

The_Doc

Re: It looks like the black boxes might be standard for all

by FastEddie » 24 Jun 2014, 21:41

I didn't like the look of the new pedals

FastEddie

Re: It looks like the black boxes might be standard for all

by sclitheroe » 25 Jun 2014, 01:46

A shiny new BD-2 nestled in a black box would be pretty killer looking though.

My complaint with the coloured boxes is how "overstuffed" they seem once all the manuals and pamphlets and whatnot are loaded in - would be nice if they were a bit bigger going forward (I can't actually remember if my OD-1X box is any bigger - I should check)

sclitheroe

Re: It looks like the black boxes might be standard for all

by Ricey » 29 Jun 2014, 16:38

I saw another brand new Boss pedal in the black box at Guitar Center, but by the time I got home to post this, I forgot which one! So there are now at least 4 Boss pedals shipping in the black box (OD-1x, DS-1x, NS-2 and unknown). It was definitely one of the older classic pedals, not a newer release.

Ricey

Re: It looks like the black boxes might be standard for all

by The_Doc » 29 Jun 2014, 20:40

The Boss rep at my local music store showed me a brand new DS-1 in a black box on Friday - it looked pretty good in there
I think the black boxes are smaller than the older ones and there is definitely a lot less paperwork stuffed into the new ones - which is good !

The_Doc

Re: It looks like the black boxes might be standard for all

by Rich_S » 09 Jul 2014, 01:26

OMG, I thought you guys were talking about the pedals themselves being black. I almost had a freekin' heart attack.

You're only talking about the boxes. Whew!

Rich_S

Re: It looks like the black boxes might be standard for all

by Ricey » 09 Jul 2014, 02:43

LOL!

Ricey