NPDx2! FZ2 and FZ3!

by 71Smallbox » 28 May 2013, 17:14

Picked these up recently. Overall, I am most impressed with the FZ-2.

Yeah! The FZ-2 is absolutely fantastic! This is the one I have missed most after having sold it three years ago. I finally received another affordable FZ-2 in pristine condition a few weeks ago and I will never sell this pedal again! 😎

It's a pretty rare pedal, I've been checking the local craigslist here for years and this is the first one I've seen pop up.

The FZ-2 or the FZ-3? I'd like to try an FZ-3 one day, and they seem substantially rarer than the FZ-2, albeit less popular and cheaper generally.

Yeah, I guess the FZ-3 would be alot rarer since it was only made for 2 years vs the 4 years of production for the FZ-2, but I've seen more FZ-3's pop up on Ebay and Craigslist. Maybe because people tend to hold on to the FZ-2?

I would think so yes. Generally I think I've seen more FZ-2's on ebay though (I haven't watched that carefully, mind you).

After a quick check of ebay, you're right, there are only 2 FZ-3's up vs 10 FZ-2's. I guess I must have had them confused with each other.

Checked UK eBay and it was 6-1 in favour of the FZ-2 . The FZ-2s tend to be a lot more expensive though. I picked one up not that long ago; it's a great pedal.

I only have the FZ-3, which I find to be a decent pedal...but I've never tried an FZ-2 so I really have no idea what I'm missing.

Someday...

I was messing with the FZ3 tonight and I got some really great tones from it, kinda like a silicon tone bender with a BMP tone control. Understanding it that way opened up the pedal since I've had many a Big Muff.

I really dig both the FZ-2 and 3. Currently have the FZ-3 on my all Boss board.

There are so many flavors of fuzz out there, and good on Boss for delivering two unique and great sounding pedals!

I can see how it might fit more applications, the only sounds I can get from the FZ-2 in its fuzz settings are INSANE and EVEN MORE INSANE, even with the fuzz level at a low setting. I love it but I'm a fuzz junkie although I have a hard time fitting the FZ-2 into what I want to do.

I think that the FZ-2 makes your guitar sing. I have no other word for it. But it can do more subtle tone as well. Just use your guitar's volume knob. The FZ-2 reacts really nice to it.
