NGD: 2001 blonde strat

by Laurie » 19 Dec 2015, 16:47

I had a blue one of these years ago and hated the colour but regretted selling it. This one is just as good and much more pleasing to the (my) eye. Came with a DP404 in the bridge spot. Not a bad pickup and more usable than the standard. I swapped the middle and neck out for a pair of Texas Specials that I had in the parts bin.

It has a great acoustic tone. Even volume across the strings. And came with the period correct hard case.

Am very happy with it.

Really good looking guitar Laurie - congrats

For one minute I thought you had got one of the new Hendrix Tribute strats !

Maple neck? Maple neck! Well done, Laurie! That's a beauty.

Now you need to start playing to get all the shininess off the fretboard and body.
